

SUCCESSFUL BODY LANGUAGE

A one-day highly interactive workshop designed for those who wish to harness the power of body language awareness and become more successful in business.

This workshop will help participants understand the important role that body language awareness has in our every day communications. Through a variety of highly interactive exercises and role-plays, participants will increase their use of successful body language techniques, become more adept at reading other people's hidden messages and as a result become more successful in their business environment.

About Skillstudio

Skillstudio is one of the UK's leading providers of presentation & communication skills training and coaching services. We are passionate about drawing out the best in people. Since early 2001, Skillstudio's trainers have worked with thousands of people from over a thousand companies and organisations throughout the UK and Europe. Our client base now includes more than 50% of the FTSE100 companies. Other clients include International Blue Chip companies through to SME's; Central Government bodies through to local borough & county councils; schools; colleges; universities; hospitals; and charities. In addition, we have worked with numerous private individuals on a one to one basis and via our public courses.
